About Tonight's Performer

JOSIAH ARMES was introduced to the pipe organ at a young age and quickly developed a passion for the instrument. He received his Bachelor of Music degree from Stetson University, Master of Music degree from Yale University, and also completed a year of post-graduate studies at the Eastman School of Music. His teachers include Dr. Boyd Jones, Thomas Murray, David Higgs, and William Porter. He has participated in such prestigious competitions as the Augustana Arts/Reuter National Undergraduate Organ Competition and won first prize at the Regional Competition for Young Organists. He formerly served as organist and assistant director of music at First Presbyterian Church, Orlando, and was appointed Associate Organist at Saint Andrew's Chapel in September 2017.
