TEACHING SESSIONS

Session 1 The Lamb Who Lives

From the beginning of the Bible when Abel, a keeper of sheep, brought an offering of the firstborn of his flock to God, through the day when Abraham offered a ram in place of his son, to when the Israelites brushed the blood of a lamb on their doorposts, we see that the story of the Bible is the story of the Lamb that God has provided. We'll trace this story of the Lamb from the beginning to the end of the Bible to discover what it means for us.

Session 2 The Bridegroom Who Loves

The Bible begins with God presenting Adam with his bride, Eve, and ends with God presenting Christ with his bride, the church. Everything in between is the story of God choosing, gathering, and beautifying a bride for his Son. We'll consider what this story of marriage from beginning to end in the Bible means for us as women who long to be loved with a sacrificial, never-ending love.

Session 3 The King Who Reigns

Ever since we were little girls we have loved stories of kings and kingdoms. Perhaps that is because there is something deep inside us that knows there really is a kingdom in which we could be cherished by the prince and protected by the king. In fact this is not just the fodder of fairy tales or escapist denial. It is the hope that the Bible holds out to us. We'll trace the story of the Bible, the story of a kingdom that you and I are invited to enter into and experience in part now, and in fullness forever.
